

RationZ MRE Ready to Eat Meals

Golden Season supplies a range of shelf stable, long life ready to meals for humanitarian relief and disaster prepare.

Long Shelf Life

The MRE's are able to last the same shelf life as canned products; typical MRE's can last 3 years under normal storage conditions without refrigeration.

Flexible, Compact, Easy to store and transport

MRE's are more compact than canned products as the pouches are flexible in nature. This characteristic makes MRE's easy to store and ship. The Soldier can put MRE's into the pockets of their uniform and eat on the go. They can also be dropped without denting.

No Need for can openers

MRE's do not require can openers and can be opened by tearing on the notches of the pouch. This led to less injuries and blood contamination. Disposal of MRE's are also easier than opened cans with sharp edges.

Easy to reheat

MRE's can be easily reheat by contact with hot surfaces, or submerging in hot water. Several MRE pouches can be reheated in one shot by submerging into hot water. If hot water is not present. the MRE pouches can be reheated by exposures to hot surfaces such as the engine bay, strong sun light etc.

Specifications
Shelf Life:	Depends on storage conditions, Typically 3 years under normal storage conditions without refrigeration.
Can Openers Required	No
Reheating Methods:	1.) Submerge to hot water 2.) Expose to hot surfaces 3.) Flameless ration heaters

*Specifications are subject to change without prior notice.